Dear Families.

Thorp Primary School is holding a Pyjama day on Friday 10th February. We would like all the children to come to school in pyjamas to raise money for the School Council Fund and our chosen charity which is Macmillan. The cost of wearing pyjamas will be £1. Also, the school council and the kitchen will be making a chocolate shortbread and milkshake combo for 50p. (if a child has a milk intolerance registered with school they can have a soya based milkshake).

As part of the day teachers will be swapping classes and reading some of their favourite bedtime stories. Children can also bring in their favourite book.

50% of the monies raised on the 10th February will go to Macmillan UK and 50% to the School Council Fund.

We hope to see all the children of Thorp in pyjamas on the 10th February and raise lots of money for a good cause.

Yours Sincerely

Isabelle and Oscar
